Campbell To Try For Auto Record Feb. 10

Holder of Present World Record, Which He Hopes to Better in Florida, Arrives at New York From England

Canadian Press
New York, Jan. 31.—Sir Malcolm Campbell, still somewhat weak and shaky from an attack of influenza, arrived here to-day on the liner Aquitania en route to Daytona Beach, Fla., where he plans to attempt to raise his own world land speed record in his rebuilt racing car, Bluebird II.

"I am all set to go as soon as beach conditions warrant," Sir Malcolm said, and went on to explain that he would be back by Feb. 10, the time by the full moon when tide conditions are best on the Florida beach.

Sir Malcolm was suffering from a high fever when he boarded the liner at Southampton, England, last Tuesday, but he was able to get out of bed Saturday and has been up and around since.

Sir Malcolm expects to leave to-night at 10 o'clock for Daytona Beach. His car, which arrived last week already has been shipped there to be set up and tested.

The present world record is 230.9 miles an hour. Reports have said Sir Malcolm hoped to raise it to 300 miles an hour.

VICTORIA NOT IN SYMPATHY

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, Jan. 31.—Victorians could not see anything for the good of Vancouver Island outside of Victoria, declared Alderman Cavell at the City Council meeting yesterday evening when discussing the importation of British coal. "It was pointed out that practically all municipalities were in sympathy with Nanaimo's protest with the exception of Victoria City Council and one or two others."

A petition was received from R. S. Conliffe, signed by forty ratepayers, protesting against the establishing of funeral parlors on Newcastle Townsite. The matter was referred to the legislative committee for investigation.

It was decided to continue on the same relief programme for February.

TREAT COLDS IN THE FIRST STAGE!

and You Nip Them in the Bud!

A cold ordinarily progresses through three stages. The Dry Stage, the first twenty-four hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, one to three days; the Mucus Secretion Stage. Relief in the first stage is far easier than in the later stages. In fact, it is taking chances to let cold run beyond twenty-four hours.

For prompt relief of a cold "take Groves' Laxative-Bromo Quinine. This famous tablet stops a cold quickly because it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels. It kills the cold germs and fever in the system. It relieves the headache and crampy feeling. It tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack. That is the treatment a cold requires!

Groves' Laxative-Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful. May be safely taken by young and old and whether you stay indoors or go out. There is absolutely no penalty attached to its use. For more than forty years it has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with modern medicine. Groves' Laxative-Bromo Quinine now comes in two sizes—3c and 50c. For safety's sake get yourself a package to-day. Beware of any dealer who offers a substitute.

NOTE: During epidemics a tablet or two of Groves' Laxative-Bromo Quinine every morning and night will do much to keep your system immune.

Coalition Hopes In South Africa Reported Fading

Smuts and Roos Groups Fail to Agree on Proposed Division of Cabinet Portfolios

Canadian Press
Capetown, South Africa, Jan. 31.—Hopes for the formation of a coalition party made up chiefly of the South African Party under Gen. Jan Christian Smuts and the followers of Tielman Roos, former Supreme Court judge, faded to-day.

It was authoritatively learned the caucus of the South African Party had rejected the proposal of Tielman Roos by which the Smuts group would be given seven portfolios in a coalition cabinet and the Roos group would retain four, including the premiership.

Supporters of the government, headed by Premier J. B. M. Hertzog, accepted the news as a further proof of their declaration the country did not want another government, and that the House of Assembly would not permit of the government's defeat.

There was no intimation of what might be the next step in the campaign of the two opposition leaders to overthrow the Hertzog government. There is little reason to believe they will not continue in their efforts to reach an agreement whereby they may pool their strength.

The answer was that country recipients should be able to do so, with no rent to pay, fuel available, and with home-grown vegetables and other farm produce available. It was explained, however, that if farm animals were kept, there was the question of cost of feed. It was doubtful if feed could be included in the grocery bill, it was stated.

Some doubt was also expressed as to whether any farmer could claim to be unemployed, although he might be in destitute circumstances. The council decided to take up these matters with the government inspector of relief.

TRADE SWING IS ESTIMATED

Curbs on production in Canada might follow the enforcement of the United Kingdom regulations, but that is about all that is suggested here. On the other hand, it is possible activities of United States plants in Canada may be speeded up in order that they may comply with the increased requirements of the United Kingdom.

The new regulations of the United Kingdom are in line with those of Canada. This country requires 50 per cent material and labor except in the case of cottons, which were reduced to 33 1/3 per cent at the request of Great Britain.

The list of goods in which, after April 1, a minimum of 50 per cent empire material and labor will be required has been received here. It is as follows:

Glass and glassware; pottery and clay products; metal furniture; certain iron hollow ware; manufactures of aluminum; copper, tin, zinc and alloys; cutlery; implements, tools and parts; scientific instruments; gauges; measuring instruments; electric goods; machines, typewriters, and cash registers; tapes and distempers; boots and shoes; manufactures of leather; transparent cellulose wrappings; arms and ammunition; locomotives, aircraft, cycles, motor cars and motor cycles; rubber manufactures; toilet preparations; brooms and brushes; machine bedding; sporting requirements; toys and musical instruments; clocks and clock cases; fountain pens; propelling pencils.

Men Are Bolder At Twenty-five Years

bridges ranging in ages from nineteen years to seventy years. Twenty bridegrooms were over twenty years of age and one was over eighty years. The eighty-year-old groom married a lady of around the same age. One sixty-year-old groom took a bride of seventeen years.

Twenty-five years is the age when most men take a life's partner. Two hundred and eighty-nine were married at that age. At twenty-one, 215 were married and between that age and twenty-eight there is little difference in the marriage figures. Then the decrease is sudden.

Twenty-one years of age seems to be the time when most brides set for their bridegroom. Four hundred and twenty-two were married at this age, 392 at twenty-two years of age, and there is not a great deal of variation in the figures up to twenty-eight years of age. After twenty-eight the decrease is strikingly sudden.

ST. LAWRENCE PLAN OPPOSED

Commons Learns Quebec Premier's Objections When Letter Tabled

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Asserting that from the point of view of the United States the St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty is only a camouflage, what they want is electric power, Hon. L.
A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, listed "objections" of that province to the big development in correspondence written March last and produced in the Commons yesterday afternoon.
Some of the objections given were
as follows:
The enormous cost of the undertaking in a time of financial crisis.
It will confer no benefit on Quebec, British Columbia and the maritime provinces, and very little on the western provinces. The latter, Premier Taschereau wrote, appeared decidedly indifferent to the undertaking.
All parts of Canada, and Quebec in particular, must contribute to the cost.
Should Canada sacrifice herself for the American middle-west, when the United States "practically closes its markets" to us?

LONG CLOSED SEASONS
The St. Lawrence route is closed during five months of every year.
The waterway would create "ruinous competition" with Canadian railways, which are already the subject of great anxiety.
The possibility exists of "future dis-sentiments" with the United States if that country is given what might amount to a right of property "on our great national artery, right in Canadian territory."
It would constitute discrimination against Quebec and the rest of Canada in favor of Ontario.
Mr. Taschereau's letter, one of a long file of documents, was written on March 26 of last year. It was tabled in the House yesterday after being moved for by G. P. Laurin, Conservative member for Jacques Cartier, Que.

RECIPROCITY MOVES MOOTED

Franklin D. Roosevelt Expected to Balance Debt Payments With Trade

Washington, Jan. 31.—Franklin D.
Roosevelt will be following an example set by Theodore Roosevelt if he, as the new President of the United States, inaugurates a policy of reciprocal tariff agreements.
The only real reciprocity treaty the United States now has is the treaty with Cuba, which was put into effect in 1902 through the driving efforts of President Roosevelt, the kinsman of the President-elect, who will take office March 4. Cuban trade figures for thirty years show how far-sighted
he was.
The President-elect has indicated he intends to lay aside the words "most favored nation" and ask foreign powers what trade concessions they will make to United States products in exchange for debt reduction and other favors
they are seeking.
Canada and the United States have had no trade agreements since 1886.
United States tariff experts have expressed a belief the Dominion will likely be one of the countries most favorably disposed toward a bargaining on tariffs with the United States.

NEW RELIEF BILL PLANNED

But Measure Not Yet Drafted, Premier Bennett Tells Commons

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Legislation dealing with unemployment and farm relief would be introduced at the next session of Parliament, Premier Bennett told the Commons yesterday afternoon, but the measure had not been settled. He was replying to Mr. Hon.
W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader.
Hon. Alfred Durnan, Minister of Marine, informed the House legislation based on the report of Sir Alexander Gibb, who surveyed unemployment in Canada, would be introduced within a few days.
Debate on a private member's motion which would make Canadian currency bills legal tender was cut short by adjournment which carried after a full-dress division. The adjournment sends the resolution to the bottom of the list and practically disposes of it for this session. The motion was offered by O. Boulanger, Liberal, Bellechasse, Que.
Lifting of the ban against liquor exports to the United States and other dry countries was proposed in a bill introduced by Colonel S. C. Robinson, Conservative, West Essex, Ont.
It was not moved past first reading,
but the border cities member said afterward he would press for an early vote in the House in an effort to have it in force as long as possible before the United States repeals its prohibition laws. Col. Robinson estimated Canada has been losing $20,000,000 revenue every year through the export prohibition.

James I. Malcolm, government relief represents the grants of two-thirds the amount expended, must be returned to raised by Hon. J. L. Ralston, Liberal, Snefburne-Yarmouth, N.S.

restored to its former position in Canadian sawmills and lumber camps, the municipal, provincial and Dominion governments would be relieved of the burden of relief to thousands of unemployed, S. C. Gillies of Brantford, Ont., president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, told the twenty-fifth annual convention of the lumbermen here yesterday.
In reference to the trade agreement between Canada and the United Kingdom drawn up at the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, Mr. Gillies pointed out that much was expected of the agreement in fostering the sale of Canadian lumber in the British markets despite the competition of Russia and the Baltic countries.
"Pore majeure and controlled trading," said Mr. Gillies, "are anathema to the great body of British trade accustomed to buying wherever the value can be secured and too much dependence should not be put on the compulsory aspect of this agreement, but our aim should be to foster the British market by patient and steady adjustment of the British buyers as to what Canada can supply and the education of our manufacturers as to what the United Kingdom market can take. The restriction of all our costs, including production, transportation and marketing.
DISTURBING FACTS
"Nevertheless it is a disturbing situation that after all the efforts made to secure trade with Britain, the president continued. "It would seem Canada must soon decide whether to follow Britain or cast her lot in with the United States. As it now stands, Canada is in a position to supply the United States with both goods and investments are not attractive to either Great Britain or the United States because of this uncertainty.
The domestic market could also be improved by a campaign of education of the public in the wider use of lumber in building operations, Mr. Gillies said.

The lumber industry here is suffering from many handicaps, in his opinion, among which might be included high taxes and high railway and freight rates.
"It would seem to be that one of the great difficulties since the war has been a failure by our governments and by our people generally to understand the economic machine could not, possibly support the war debts and other obligations and the heavy overhead of government, provide commodities in volume, and leave the needed margin for the basic industries to carry on and grow," he said.
"For the last eighteen years, we, the governments of Canada—Dominion, provincial, municipal—together, have been spending much more than our income, spending $134 for every $100 in taxes and borrowing to make up the shortage," he concluded.

Montreal, Jan. 31.—While one group of United Kingdom lumber merchants and distributors attending the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa were willing to co-operate with the Canadian lumber trade in securing wider preference for Canadian lumber in the United Kingdom market, another group, closely associated with Timber Distributors Limited, was determined to safeguard Russian and Baltic privileges in the same market,
to the detriment of Canadian interests.
That was one of the problems Canadian timber trade representatives at the conference had to face, George R.
Nicholson, M.P. for West Ayrshire, Conservative, told the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association here yesterday.
Mr. Nicholson, as chairman of the economic committee appointed by the Canadian lumber industry to study trade problems and attempt to improve the Canadian position in empire markets, was in contact with empire lumber interests throughout the Ottawa conference.

DISCOVERY SOON MADE
"Very early in our discussions," he said, "we realized the timber trade delegates, so-called, being actually the representatives of imperial distributors, were in Canada not for the purpose of assisting us to secure an entry into the British market, but to do everything possible to maintain the status quo as far as Russia was concerned. This meant the exclusion of Canadian lumber and timber as far as that was possible, and information coming through from day to day indicates the campaign started in Ottawa to place every possible obstacle before us is being continued to-day.
The independent group, headed by E. J. Bennett, the secretary, "have every possible assistance. They presented a very strong case to the advisers of their own government, and supported us all the way through in our efforts to secure a favorable decision from the conference itself, and articles published in the British press,
as well as correspondence received,
clearly indicates they are following up their efforts on behalf of empire trade."

EX-CHAIN GANG MAN IN TORONTO

Robert Blake, Who Exposed Florida Prison Conditions, on Way to New Brunswick

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 31.—Robert Blake, ex-Florida chain gang convict, spent the last week in Toronto, according to a copyright story in The Toronto Star.
Blake, the newspaper says, is on his way to his former home in New Brunswick after spending eight years in a chain gang for theft of $150. He had littered his way to this city from Florida.
Blake claims to have been the convict who opened a "sweat box" at Sunbeam camp, near Jacksonville, and found the body of Arthur Halliwell, a yellow convict. The story of Halliwell's death led to a wide investigation of the chain gang system.
Blake told of the daily toll of the gang building roads under a blazing sun with the thermometer as high as 110 or 115 degrees. There was no respite, only half an hour break to eat in the middle of the day.
"If a man sits down for a moment,"
he said, "the sweating chain gang blackens him to his feet. If he protests he is laid low with a blow.
Rain never stops them. In fact, the convicts like the rain, for it is the only time their sweat-drenched bodies feel water."
A suit of clothes and a pair of boots were issued once a year. After that, said Blake, "it's just too bad."
Blake told how the irons and chains were riveted to the ankles and that a protruding spur forced the prisoners to "shuffle" in their walk.

PARLIAMENT HAS MUCH MORE IMPORTANT BUSINESS TO DISCUSS

Colonel C. S. Robinson, Conservative member for West Essex, has introduced a bill in the House of Commons at Ottawa intended to lift the ban on liquor shipments from Canada to the United States. His argument in support of the measure is based on the contention that if clearances for liquor exports were again to be granted as they were before the prohibitory legislation was passed in 1930, this country would be able to collect a considerable amount of additional revenue, while the greater demand for Canadian alcoholic refreshment in the neighboring republic would furnish more employment for the workmen of this country. Second reading of the bill has been called for next week.

It ought to be safe to predict that this measure will get short shrift when it is before the House for discussion. The legislation which the King government initiated in 1930 to put an end to the export of Canadian liquor to the United States was approved by the House of Commons by a vote of 173 to eleven and afterward by the Senate by a minor amendment to which the lower chamber agreed.

In sponsoring the 1930 legislation, Mr. MacKenzie King, then Prime Minister, told the House that the government desired its passage "because it feels with respect to its own officials that it should not countenance on the part of the Customs or Excise officials, any procedure, however legal or innocent, that would cause it to appear that the government is facilitating the work of rum runners and smugglers."

It will be remembered that the government was accused of bowing to dictation from the neighboring republic. A few of the then opposition members took this line; but to all intents and purposes the majority agreed with Mr. King that such legislation was necessary in order that Canada's skirts might be clean.

Colonel Robinson's bill should be defeated just as decisively as the 1930 prohibitive legislation was approved. If Canada must become the confederate of the Capones and other bootlegging elements to provide employment, we have come to a pretty pass.

In the not distant future, moreover, our neighbor probably will be able to buy Canadian liquor and distribute it under a new liquor law. Meanwhile, let us keep out of the border racketeering which went on prior to the passage of the 1930 legislation.

JAPAN CONSULTS THE ORACLE— CHINA ECONOMICALLY SOUND

According to a dispatch from Tokyo, Foreign Minister Uchida has gone to consult Prince Saionji, a venerable Japanese statesman, whose advice is not sought except on occasions when the country is confronted with a grave national crisis. It is suggested that the topic Uchida and Saionji will discuss will be Japan's relations with the League of Nations—whether, in view of the attitude of that body toward her military adventure in Manchuria, she shall remain a member or shall not. When the Foreign Minister returns, the cabinet will hold "an extraordinary meeting" to consider what the vernacular newspapers call "the final instructions" to the Japanese delegation at Geneva.

Whether Japan will retain her membership in the League of Nations or not is not the most serious problem, which is engaging the attention of the Tokyo government, and we may be sure it will not be the only subject that will be discussed by Uchida and Saionji. The shadow of financial collapse, brought about very largely by the country's naval and military adventures of the last eighteen months, hangs over Japan like a pall. No matter how her financial experts try, they can not make her budget balance. She has an unemployment problem similar to that of the other nations, with social unrest which Communist elements are exploiting to the fullest extent, while stagnant industry and a heavy load of taxation are exacting their tribute.

Japan's budget has passed all previous totals and amounts to $450,000,000 and shows a deficit of no less than $179,000,000. To find the money to bridge the gap is the problem. She has got herself into this financial mess, to say nothing of alienating many other nations, in her attempt to "discipline" China. But while Japan is figuratively writhing in her financial convulsions, China comes to the front with her budget balanced for the first time in twenty-one years without recourse either to foreign or domestic borrowing.

It is admitted by the Finance Minister of the Chinese government that when Japan struck at Shanghai the country, financially and commercially, was in a very poor condition, while the conflict in the country's commercial and financial center brought that condition almost to chaos. It is explained, however, that "in the face of the national danger the government stripped itself of everything for the moment not essential to its existence. Excepting the diplomatic and the revenue-collecting services, all civilian departments were drastically curtailed. Only skeletons were maintained."

We are told that China saved nearly $100,000,000 in silver in debt charges by a bond conversion scheme and saved another $100,000,000 in military expenditures. She thus reduced her budget by practically $200,000,000. Nor should it be forgotten that during the period in which this has been accomplished there has been no civil war directed against the central government. Indeed, domestic bonds have increased in value by about forty per cent over the price in January, 1932, and the country's credit abroad has risen significantly.

Thus we have an interesting situation. Japan has gone war crazy, defying the League of Nations, running in the face of almost universal disfavor, almost broke and frantically trying to borrow money. On the other hand, supposedly "backward" China is setting a financial pace which may well be the envy of the rest of the world. She has climbed out of the financial hole into which she, in common with other countries, had fallen, and has the satisfaction of knowing that her credit and securities are far more respected than those of Japan. It will not do for western nations to assume a superior air when they contemplate China and her present economic condition.

HITLER'S RISE TO OFFICE AND ANTI-SEMITISM

Although Chancellor Adolf Hitler has surrounded himself—willingly or by the "gentle" persuasion of President von Hindenburg—with ministerial colleagues who will not permit him to initiate drastic legislation, a dispatch from Berlin to-day indicates that his programme for the virtual subjugation of the Jews in Germany is causing many of that race to leave the country.

The organ of the Hitlerites, predicting that now the Nazi chieftain is Chancellor there will be an exodus of Jews from Germany, says "during the past six months many Jews have obtained passports, but to others who refused to believe that Germany would awaken, the present events have come prematurely and inconveniently." Business on Saturday apparently was normal at passport offices; but yesterday many Jews appeared to obtain papers as quickly as possible for "vacation trips" abroad.

When Wilhelm Frick, Nazi Minister of the Interior, was asked whether he would move to extradite some of the departing Jews, said: "If these people leave, that is something which we can only desire. I won't take any special measure." This is quite a different tone from the original plan announced by Hitler before the presidential campaign last year. These were the seven planks of his platform then:

1. The Jews are to be deprived of their citizenship and receive the status of aliens.
2. No Jews will be permitted to hold a government or municipal post.
3. Since the state must make its primary concern the livelihood of its citizens, should there be insufficient food, the Jews will be expelled.
4. All Jews who entered Germany after 1914 are to be expelled at once (about 100,000).
5. Jews to be prohibited from editing or collaborating on newspapers.
6. The freedom of Christian religions is to be safeguarded, but the Jewish religion is to be combatted on the ground that it is materialistic.
7. All Jewish land holdings and town properties are to be confiscated.

At the time the Hitlerite programme in this regard was announced the Committee on Goodwill between Jews and Christians of the Federal Churches of the United States took steps to stamp out what it described as the incipient blaze of racial hatred. Dr. Parkes Cadman, well-known in Victoria, wrote an article in The Congregational and Herald of Gospel Liberty in which he pointed out that Hitler believed that "Jews are not Germans, no matter how long they have resided in Germany or German-Austria."

It is a matter of record that Hitler blames the Jews for everything he does not like, "or of which he does not approve, in the cultural, artistic, social, economic, and political life of the nation, and he sees in everything that he dislikes or disapproves the sinister influence of what he calls the international Jewish plot to conquer the world."

As we observed in these columns yesterday, however, Hitler in opposition and Hitler as Chancellor no doubt will turn out to be two entirely different men.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BALANCING THE BUDGET The Philadelphia Ledger

Balancing the budget now means the budget for the following year. It is too late to do much toward repairing the deficiencies for 1933; but the same mistakes need not be repeated.

THE HUDSON BAY ROUTE The Winnipeg Free Press

The west expects the Dominion Government to take whatever steps may be necessary to equalize insurance charges on the Hudson Bay and St. Lawrence routes for a sufficient length of time to permit a complete test of the new route which will demonstrate that it is superior in every respect to the rival route, with the exception of the length of the shipping season. With this simple act of business sagacity and justice, the Dominion Government can withdraw the adventitious aids to the port which it has thus far most properly been extending and leave the demonstration of the value of the route to its natural advantages.

EASY MONEY The Boston Transcript

Ever since that Boston terrier in Worcester swallowed a silver half-dollar and, when cut open, gave up two silver half-dollars there has been a startling change in Worcester's canine dietary. Boxes of dog biscuits remain unsold on the grocer's shelves; gentlemen hitherto reputed to be fond of dogs now sternly deny them. The animals, in bewilderment, find themselves at meat-times hanging out their tongues over plates heaped up with silver half-dollars disgorged with a thin coating of gravy. The entire population is withdrawing silver half-dollars from the banks and rushing home with them by the bagful. For it stands to reason that if a half-dollar piece when swallowed by a bull pup turns in a twinkling into two such pieces the depression is over—at any rate for Worcester and for everything but Boston terriers.

A THOUGHT

O Lord, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, and hastened our heart from thy fear. Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance. Isaiah 54:17.

No man ever prayed without learning something—Emerson.

Loose Ends

Victoria enjoys a feast of intellect—Mr. Shaw repents and asks for comfort—but finds none—Mr. Speaker Davie tries to squeeze 'em all in—nothing matters much—and the first robin arrives.

By H. B. W.

INTELLECTUAL FEAST

VICTORIA, at a feast of the intellect, is always a glorious spectacle. I watched Victoria carefully last Saturday night as it feasted on the intellectual titbits of Mr. Bernard Shaw and the sight was enlightening; more enlightening, perhaps, than Mr. Shaw's play, "Too True To Be Good." Victoria applauded thunderously, but I am quite sure it had no idea what the play was all about; at least I hadn't, and that is ample reason for supposing that nobody else did. (The attitude of all the world's governments towards economic doctrines is based on precisely that assumption—they don't know what the depression is about, and, therefore, nobody else does.)

VICTORIA needn't despair of its well-known culture just because it couldn't fathom Mr. Shaw, for I have a strong suspicion that Mr. Shaw couldn't fathom himself. At the risk of being considered uncultured and un-Victorian, I venture the opinion that, like Victoria, Mr. Shaw didn't know what "Too True To Be Good" was all about. It seemed to me just another of Mr. Shaw's unhappy meditations on the insoluble riddle of life. For about seventy years now Mr. Shaw has been trying in vain to make any sense out of life and talking about it out loud. He has built up a great reputation by his articulate failure to make any sense of the world. He has made some sense of it and died poor because they couldn't talk about it in impudent epigrams. Mr. Shaw has piled up a large fortune merely by waiting elegantly over his own frustration. Perhaps if he had been able to make any sense of it he would have died obscure, poor and happy.

NEVERTHELESS, "Too True To Be Good" is a notable play, even if Victoria and I couldn't understand it very well. I'm afraid it was over our heads. It was certainly over my head and the people sitting near me waited all evening for something to happen. Having forgotten, apparently, that Mr. Shaw's plays nothing ever does happen—people just lounge about and spout the accumulated ideas of Mr. Shaw. It was a notable play, because it showed Mr. Shaw again as the authentic voice of this last generation—a bitter and a disillusioned voice, the voice of a generation which has known everything and understood nothing, which has all the equipment of happiness and yet is miserable, which has explored all truth and can find nothing true. In Mr. Shaw's Colborne's production, the figure of Shaw himself enters as one of the characters and, in a thundering speech, says we are all on the brink of an abyss. ("Abeas," Mr. Colborne called it.) He says that science in its search for reason in the universe has finally succeeded in proving that there is none. "The only true dogma is that there is no dogma." The only certainty is uncertainty. The only sure thing is the inevitability of ruin.

LEAN DIET

MR. SHAW used to say these things with a kind of delight at his own cleverness, which was all he needed to be perfectly happy. He liked to make our flesh creep like the fat boy in Pickwick. But there is a new note in his latest soliloquy, and it is in this that he shows himself to be the authentic voice of a lost generation. The mere satisfaction of being clever is not sufficient any more. Critics become a weary diet after seventy years. The inevitability of ruin no longer satisfies an old man about to leave this stage and go to another where brilliance of this sort is not likely to help much. The play thus ends, in curious fashion, with a long speech by a young fellow, who evidently represents the youth of to-day. It is a rambling speech, full of Shaw, but with a yearning for something to get hold of, for a ray of truth, for a God, if you want to call it that, which seems to have been torn whole out of Shaw's heart. Perhaps some day, when he realizes it is the true story of these times. The stout lady sitting next to me said to her neighbor: "It's a bit nutty, if you ask me." Her companion, a superior mind, replied that it "verged on vulgarity." "Quite exquisite" said a lady of fashion who, I could tell by one look at her, had no notion what it was about. Her husband, a captain of industry and a good fellow, said he had slept through the third act but, judging by the first two, he hadn't missed anything.

ANCIENT PHENOMENON

THE usual February phenomenon is again evident at the Parliament Buildings. The rush for tickets to the opening of the Legislature has got under way and Mr. Speaker Davie has to brush up his higher mathematics to find means of seating all the applicants. Even when he has finished, there will always be two or three more distinguished personages who will have to be squeezed in somewhere if the Legislature is to open at all. A forger would take this for a passionate patriotism, a crusading citizenship, a desire on the part of the electors to co-operate with their representatives in making the laws of the country. It would be hard for him to believe that when the House met down to business next day the galleries will be empty, except for a few serious old fellows too obscure to get tickets for the opening. Not one of the distinguished personages will be present then or later. They will all have gone home to read the reports of the Legislature's business and to grumble at the mismanagement of public affairs.

THERE is a great rush for tickets at Mr. Speaker's office these days because our earnest citizens are chiefly interested in the faintly ridiculous, gold-brained opening ceremony. It gives a lot of fellows a chance to wear scarlet and swords. It gives papa a chance to take his top hat out of moth balls and, besides, mama and the flapper daughter want to show off their fur coats in the front rows. There will be no swords, no top hats, no furs, nothing worth while when the Legislature starts to raise taxes and care for 100,000 British Columbians now on the public dole.

IT DOESN'T MATTER

BUT no matter. Before party passions become aroused, before the gripping documents, the speech from the Throne, plunged us into quarrels and controversies—it is usually written by some assistant secretary and then censored by the Cabinet to remove any shadow of sense that may have crept in by oversight—before that, while there is yet time, let us remember this great fundamental truth—nothing that this or any other Legislature can do is likely to matter very much. It may be inconvenient, but hardly important. For politics, imagining that it is originating ideas, only reflects them. Ideas come from the outside, from economists, philosophers, students, from wild men like me. After a long time they gradually penetrate the cranium of politics and are

INFORMATION WANTED

To the Editor:—Some time ago there was an item in your paper about some scientists who had been experimenting with sex determination in live chicks and had achieved success in his work with some animals. I have a friend who is carrying on these experiments on chickens at the University of British Columbia. We are anxious to get information about the scientists and doctors who have been carrying on this work to help in the future. The experiments on birds with light and dark. So, if any of your readers have any clippings or news references or other articles that would help in our search for information on the methods being adopted elsewhere, it would be greatly appreciated if they could pass it on to the undersigned, either through your paper or directly.

uttered from its mouth as divine revelations. The trouble with politics, and with government generally, is that it has no time to think. It is too busy governing.

EARLY BIRD

NEVER mind. If the Legislature comes, can spring be far behind? "No, no, far," said a big, fat robin who alighted on the oak tree outside my window just now, the first robin of the year out this way. He says it will be an early spring and he wants to be in on the ground floor. "I read the Publicity Bureau advertisement while I was in California," the pro-jected, and I arrive here to find snow all over everything. A fellow ought to be a penguin to follow the birds to Victoria these days. As for raising a family, well, we shall have to put that off for some months, I fear. The Publicity Bureau ought to be more careful about these things. It is most inconvenient, the fact is, we usually figure out to arrive when the Legislature is opening, but it's a month late this year. We always find that the temperature here goes up remarkably when the Legislature meets. I suppose that's what it means for."

Women Deplore Obstruction By "Political and Selfish Business Interests"

Miss Margaret Clay Again President; Annual Reports Show Progress

Miss Margaret Clay was re-elected by acclamation president of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at the annual meeting held in the club-rooms yesterday evening, and attended by a large number of members. Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Miss J. Shaw; second vice-president, Mrs. M. Hall; treasurer, Mrs. M. Lamport; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. Nickerson; directors, Mrs. B. H. Rose, Miss E. Richardson, Miss L. Maxwell, Miss M. E. Livingstone and Mrs. H. J. Schramm.

Miss Clay in her presidential address made reference to the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of the Clubs held in Victoria last year, and bringing to this city many women of outstanding interest, while at the same time strengthening the club's affiliation to the International body. She noted that the Victoria Club was the first in Canada to make a contribution to the work of the Women's Disarmament Committee at Geneva.

The club has taken an active share in the community life of the city, assisting various projects, and had also continued to fulfil one of the club's objectives along educational lines. The social aspect of the club's programme had also been maintained, and more would probably be accomplished along this line in the coming year.

OTHER REPORTS

Other reports were read as follows: Mrs. M. A. Wigley for the federation; Mrs. E. C. McGowan for the association; Miss A. B. Paul for the finance committee; Miss Wigley for the Women's Workmen's committee; and which the club has subscribed, and also supplied several executive members; Miss Kate McLaren for the service clubs council, which during the year had sponsored the bringing here of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra and the British debaters; Miss M. O'Leary for the "Business Women" magazine contributions; Miss Margaret Woodcock for the Trillicum Guild, of which the club is patron; Mrs. B. H. Rose for the entertainment committee; Mrs. M. Hall and Miss Richardson for the dramatic committee; and Mrs. Vephi Taylor for the Children's Aid.

PRESS FOR DISARMAMENT

The meeting heartily endorsed a resolution concerning disarmament, submitted from the International Relations committee, as follows: "Whereas, we the members of the (Turn to Page 7, Col. 7)

ALL-BRAN RELIEVE HIS CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Brought New Health to Mr. Bartholomew

We quote from his voluntary letter: "I had considerable trouble with my stomach. Digestion at first of the question. I got medicine which gave me only temporary relief."

"Then I thought of taking ALL-BRAN. I started eating a cereal and had two or three times a day."

"It has been over a year now since I ate that first dish of ALL-BRAN. From that day to this I have had the pleasure of enjoying the proper functioning of the digestive organs."

"Thanks to ALL-BRAN, I still sit regularly and like it better all the time."—Lester Bartholomew. (Address furnished upon request.)

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote elimination. ALL-BRAN supplies both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is rich like that of leafy vegetables. It is not a laxative, but a natural food. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN will overcome most types of constipation. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, your doctor.

MOTHER AND SON ARE REUNITED

Associated Press

Minneapolis, Jan. 31.—A birthmark the shape of a potato has united a mother and son after twenty-seven years and Fred B. Graves of Minneapolis today is Bernard Frederick Apple Joseph Apple, the father, disappeared from Fairhaven, Minn., in 1906; and the sixteen-month-old baby, Bernard, was taken by a family named Graves to Cottonwood, S.D. There he lived until thirteen years old. When he learned he was not Fred Graves he left immediately to "hunt" for his parents.

Years later his search brought him to St. Cloud, Minn., where he found his birth record and discovered his mother's name. In San Diego, Cal., he found her.

His mother asked him to take of his right shoe. He did and his foot revealed the birthmark.

The mother and son found that a few years ago they had lived within two blocks of each other here.

On Friday evening at the Shrine Auditorium at 8.30 o'clock the Junior Musical Art Society will present in recital, Boyd Humphrey, violinist, and Allen Parker, pianist. Mr. Humphrey is a native son of Nanaimo, and is now residing in Victoria. Miss Parker came out from England several years ago and is well-known in local musical circles.

To Smyth Humphrey came the distinction of being the first holder of a medal All-Canada scholarship, and in 1927 this clever young artist entered the Royal College of Music, London, where he remained until last year.

Mr. Humphrey studied violin under Maurice Sorens, conducting with Malcolm Sargent, and harmony with Dr. Barke.

This recital is not one of the regular programmes of the Junior Musical Art and tickets are on sale to the public at Fletcher Bros. and the Willis Piano Company, and may be obtained from members of the Musical Art Society, both senior and junior.

LATE VICTORIAN DIES IN PARIS

Mme. Henri de Menut Well-known Here 40 Years Ago

Old-timers will learn with regret of the death of Madame Henri E. Menut in Cherbourg, France, which occurred on January 14, after a lingering illness. As Miss Martha Campbell, daughter of the late Frank Campbell, pioneer and popular tobacconist of this city, Madame Menut was well-known and highly respected, and was a talented musician, being organist of St. Andrew's Cathedral for seven years. She also took part in many amateur performances at that time.

Forty years ago she married Mons. Henri E. Menut, Cherbourg, and since that time had resided in Paris and Cherbourg. She is survived by her husband, one son and six grandchildren and her sister, Miss Clara K. Campbell, all of Cherbourg, and four nieces, Mrs. W. A. Mulachy and Misses Rita C. and Agnes McDonald, Victoria, and Miss Martha C. McDonald, Seattle.

Claims Bridge Is Solution Of Gambling Spirit

San Francisco, Jan. 30 (Associated Press).—Ely Culbertson, bridge expert, told a group of enthusiasts of the game here yesterday that it was "the light and best solution for the gambling spirit," which he asserted was "threatening the American home."

"Outside of love," said Culbertson, "I consider bridge the greatest indoor sport. I don't consider fighting over a bridge table a drawback. A bridge table argument clears the atmosphere. Such an argument is in the nature of a safety valve and should be hailed with delight by all players."

"The way a man or woman acts in a bridge game is the way he or she will act after the wedding. If you would really know your fiancé or fiancée, play bridge and learn the worst."

Took Eight Years To Make Bedspread

Mrs. Dorothy Holloway, a Seattle woman, has just completed a tatted bedspread, which she commenced in January, 1925, and at which she has worked steadily ever since. The bedspread measures seventy-six inches by ninety-two inches, has 2,873 medallions in it and required 1,218,666 stitches, she says.

Yesterday she put the finishing touches on the ninety-two by seventy-six inch coverlet which has taken her eight years, or 668 working hours, to make.

"A lot of work? Maybe, but I did it to rest myself," she said. "I started by tatting a medallion every time I went down town on the street car. It was easier on my eyes than reading. I used eleven boxes of thread, so the actual cost of the spread has been $18.50. But allowing for laboring time I figure it is worth twenty times as much."

Y.M.C.A. LINEN SHOWER PLANNED

Miss Agnew is again lending her home, "Schuhum," Rockland Avenue, to the Y.M.C.A. ladies' auxiliary for their annual linen shower to be held on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, thus following out a delightful custom of the last few years.

Francis X. Bushman Claims $10,000 Damages From Ontario Man

Canadian Press. London, Ont., Jan. 31.—With a crowded Middlesex courtroom at his elbow, Francis X. Bushman, Adonis of the silent screen, made a personal appearance in his $10,000 lawsuit against Albert E. Hamilton, Windsor business man, when he was on the witness stand for over two hours here yesterday afternoon.

Bushman told his counsel, Hon. J. C. Elliott, K.C., that during the twenty-two years he has been in the theatrical business he had made between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000. Then he told how his annual income had dwindled from around $40,000 to $7,000, which he made last year.

Bushman declared that owing to a hernia, allegedly the result of the motor accident over which he is suing, he cannot now engage in making motion pictures. He claims to have been permanently disabled and that only the vaudeville stage is now open to him. The hearing continues to-morrow.

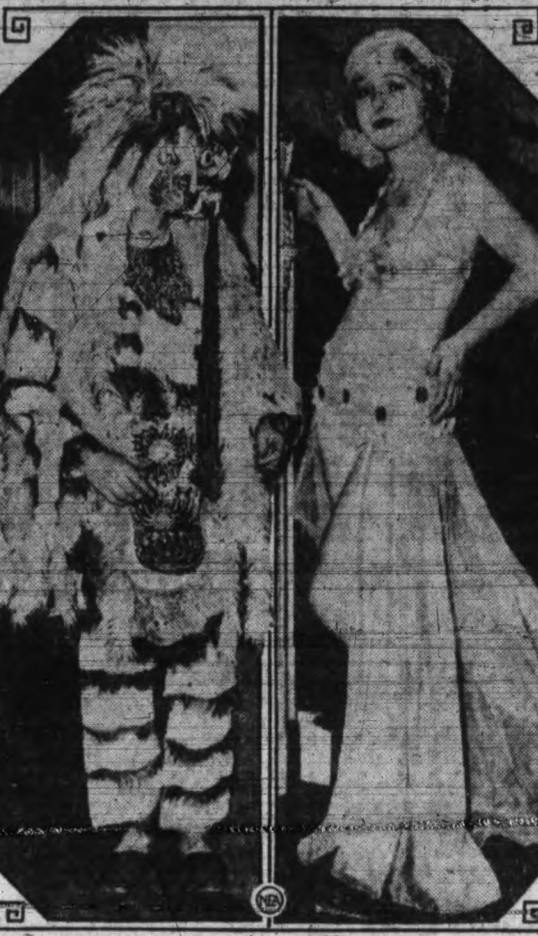

Bushman is suing as the sequel to a 1908 "crash" which occurred on the Windsor-London highway just west of Windsor in December, 1931. He was riding in the back seat of his seven-passenger limousine when it figured in a collision with the Windsor man's car.

SPANKING DOES NOT DESERVE ATTENTION IT GETS

Why do people have so much faith in spanking? Spanking has been done since time immemorial and despite its supposed efficacy, children have gone on being mean, bad, stubborn, incorrigible. Adults are supposed to learn by experience, but in this one particular time has taught them little. The child's behavior annoys or upsets or confounds them and they attempt to correct it by spanking; even when they discover repeatedly that the child goes on doing other naughty things. If not exactly the same misdeeds, until life is just one spank after another.

CHILD IS UNLUCKY

Mrs. F. S. is in despair. Her daughter of two and one-half years is acting in the usual two and one-half year old fashion. Seemingly no behavior in childhood can so try a parent low as the actions of a child of this age. Her main contention is the child's refusal to carry out her commands. For instance, she writes, "She received dishes for Christmas and she always wants me to sit at her table and eat with her. This evening we lit the tree and sat and talked about it and she asked questions and we answered them and all had a good time. When bedtime came, she cried and screamed and threw herself on the floor and then her daddy spanked her good and put her to bed."

"She doesn't play well with her toys. Instead of building blocks she pretends they are cookies or ice cream or something. She scatters her blocks and blocks all over the floor purposely, and then leaves them to play with something else. If she doesn't get her way, she screams and crawls off into a corner."

WON'T OBEY

"When she runs down on the block to play with older children and we call her back, she screams and I don't know what to do. I wonder what to do to keep her busy, but I can't think of anything. I try to deal with her in kindness but my mother always tells me to spank her when she is spoiled and stubborn and mean. We live with my parents. Do you think that's complicated things?"

To avoid confusing the child by too many bosses, suppose your mother leaves the disciplining and management of the child to you. One boss is enough in any family.

Why worry because the child uses her blocks in other imaginative ways? This is still play. Give her a variety of playthings, put them in some corner of the house that is hers, and let her play as she chooses. Too many suggestions about how she shall play develop the dependence upon you which you so deplore.

TEACHING SAME LESSON

Wouldn't the same ends have been gained if the father had carried the child to bed without spanking? Wouldn't you teach the same lesson if you brought the child home promptly on her refusal to heed your calls? Why the spanking? What purpose did it serve other than to satisfy the father that he had "done something" about the misbehavior? What you are trying to teach the child is that when you call her she is to come home; when bedtime arrives, she must go to bed. Bringing her home, taking her to bed, emphasizing these lessons without adding anything extra in the way of an angry spanking.

Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my leaflets, "How to Manage the Child Wisely," and "How to Meet the Child's Opposition." They will give you further information. To-morrow: "Prolonged Nursing Encourages Undernourishment."

TARIFF NO CURE FOR WORLD ILLS

Says J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., Addressing Women on Interdependence of Nations

Montreal, Jan. 31.—The world was once a rag doll but is now an intricate mechanism comparable to the human body, whose every part is affected if one member becomes injured, said J. S. Woodsworth, member of Parliament for Winnipeg North, in an address yesterday before the Montreal Women's Club.

The simile of the rag doll and the human body served Mr. Woodsworth as the basis for his address on "The Modern World and Some of Its Problems." When the world was a rag doll each nation was one distinct member of the doll, head, arm or leg, threatened to the body but nevertheless separated from it. The arm of the doll might be injured and the seaward pour out but the accident would not affect the other parts of the body.

But along came steamships, railways, telegraphs, and other modes of transportation and communication, which ran nerves and muscles throughout the body of the doll, connecting it in such a way that each and every part of the body was, to a certain extent, dependent on the body.

All this was made painfully evident by the war," Mr. Woodsworth continued, "when the nervous system of the world was jabbed and the whole world winced." This had not, however, brought a proper realization of the interdependence of the world and its constituent parts but created a reaction. The reactionary tendency, the speaker claimed, resulted in each country striving to return to the rag doll status by becoming independent of everyone else.

But return to the old system could not be accomplished. "The nations cannot shut themselves up within their own boundaries, raise high tariff walls and expect to prosper. Some country will be injured and the hurt to one will be a wound for the entire system."

Moreover, we cannot stand still. If we attempt it we go back. We must go forward because as the Queen said in "Alice in Wonderland": "You have to run very fast to keep up where you are."

First United W. A.—Group "A" of the First United Women's Association met in the ladies' parlor at the church yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Donald Macdonald in the chair. The minutes were read and the treasurer's report was adopted. The business to be taken up during the year was discussed. Delegates were appointed to the Local Council of Women. It was decided to hold a Valentine tea on February 14, at the president's home, 1514 Gladstone Avenue. Tea was served by Mrs. J. T. McDonald and Mrs. J. Norris at the close of the meeting.

Be Sensible about the FLU

With every epidemic of influenza comes an epidemic of advice. But if you have the flu—or you even suspect its presence—there's just one thing to do. Call a doctor immediately.

There are, however, some simple, sensible precautions that everyone should take at this time. Try to keep in good physical condition. Guard against colds or sore throat by avoiding contact with all coughers and sneezers. The germs of disease will often fasten upon the man or woman whose vitality has been lowered by a severe cold.

If you should catch a cold, Aspirin will help you to fight it. Keep a supply of these tablets in the house and take them according to directions at the first sign of any cold. Crush three Aspirin tablets in about half a glass of water and gargle as directed, if there is any soreness of the throat.

Be sure to use the genuine Aspirin tablets; they are of proven efficacy.

Above all, don't delay calling your doctor if you have reason to suspect that you have caught the flu.

BUSINESS CLUB REITERATE STAND ON DISARMAMENT

Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs have already pledged our support to the cause of peace and disarmament; whereas, the members of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs regret the fact that political questions and selfish business interests have been allowed to obstruct real results in the reduction of armaments, and, whereas, we realize that the peace of the world depends in a great measure on the equality and security of the nations.

Therefore, be it resolved that we, the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs do earnestly pray (1) that the Disarmament Conference be now reunited with all its original force; (2) that the conference make a universal declaration renouncing recourse to force for national ends in settling international disputes; (3) that the covenant of the League of Nations be loyally applied and that a method of consultation be adopted to deal with any violation or threat of violation of the Briand-Kellogg pact, in order that security for all nations will be assured; and, further, be it resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to the Prime Minister of Canada, to the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and to the Canadian delegation in Geneva.

NATIONAL NIGHT

Several matters affecting the club policy were discussed, the motion concerning the supper meetings being left to the next business meeting for discussion.

One new member, Miss Elizabeth King, was elected at the monthly meeting which preceded the annual gathering. Miss Clay invited the members to hold "National Night" at her home on the evening of Thursday, February 23, when it is hoped Miss Jess Murray of Vancouver, provincial vice-president, will be the speaker. Plans were made to hold the installation dinner at the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday evening, February 11, when Miss Dauphinee and Miss Murray will be present.

Prior to the opening of the business the members passed a standing tribute to the memory of Mrs. S. F. Toimie.

He said
he didn't

but he couldn't fool HIMSELF

The big night for the rest of the gang. For Joe just another Saturday night at home. He told the other fellows he didn't like to hang around with girls. But that didn't make him feel any better. He knew in his heart it was because he was terribly sensitive about his pimply complexion. What could he do about it? He was willing to try anything that wasn't "stinky."

One night a friend of his who worked in the drug store told him about Cuticura Ointment. "It helps lots of people," he said. "No kidding! You can see the big improvement it makes."

Joe's experience after using Cuticura is like thousands who write in. After using several cakes of the soap and a small quantity of the ointment, they report that their faces are completely healed, cleared up.

CHAPTER I

"Susan, Carey!"

The girl looked up to see the brown eyes of the shorthand teacher fastened on her.

"Two words wrong to-day. However, and I going to teach you how to spell 'believe' and 'necessary'."

Miss Allen's tone was superior and cutting. Susan thought. The girl flushed to the roots of her hair. Oh, how she hated this business of learning to be a stenographer! She never would learn really, she felt certain of that. It was humiliating beyond belief to be hauled up before the desk this way, to be reprimanded. True, there were only three other students within hearing range. The rest sat huddled around their tables, four to a group, struggling with n-books and vowel positions and whatnot. Horrible, horrible invention, shorthand!

Susan said in a voice she felt to be craven and faltering, "I'm sorry, Miss Allen."

The paper was shoved across the desk to her and she accepted it, returning to her table with hot cheeks and eyes down cast. Helen Marshall, her nearest neighbor, whispered softly, "Don't mind her, the old cat. She loves to get a rise from anyone."

Susan accepted the sympathy with a faint smile and the endless morning droned on. It was May and a vagrant breeze drifted through the big windows of the Block Shorthand School on the eighteenth floor of the towering new office building on Michigan Avenue. It was a breeze from the lake that seemed to say, "Come and sail with me."

Susan thought of Aunt Jessie at home waiting for her to finish her shorthand course and start "bringing something in." Susan winced at the thought of Aunt Jessie staring angrily through her spectacles on hearing that Susan "couldn't seem to catch on" to this r and n-book business. Aunt Jessie was "awfully strict." She had been raised in an old-fashioned school, and she was a stickler for the rules. The red and you spoil the child, was one of her favorites. Also, "Beauty is only skin deep," and "Handsome is as handsome does."

Aunt Jessie wanted Susan to be a "nice, mild girl." She didn't want her to use lipstick or rouge and she grumbled even about powder. She had been known to say two years before that she'd rather see Susan dead at her feet than with makeup on her face.

All this was rather hard on Susan who was nineteen, dark and handsome in a tragic way, rather after the manner of Joan Crawford. Her eyes were said to be like a Crawford's, in their depth and size. The girl's face had the strong, clear-cut, yet utterly feminine contour of the motion picture stars. Susan's figure was lovely, too—slim and nicely curved in the right places. Although how anyone could be expected to look attractive in Cousin Ruth's season-before-last blue serge suit Susan didn't know.

The girl tried to be optimistic but sometimes when she went to movies and saw the adorable gowns the film stars wore she came home feeling cheated. She could never hope to wear anything but a 60-80 frock from Weegman's basement. Aunt Jessie thought there was no place like Weegman's basement.

Susan looked up from her reverie to find the handsome boy at the next table gazing at her. Odd for that good looking, superior chap to be attending business school! He was "Mister Dunbar" to the class and Helen had whispered the day before that he had been at Harvard, had been dropped and that his father was making him "go in for business in a big way."

"The Dunbar 'Where Works,' Helen had explained, important because she knew. And Susan had glanced at the husky, tall young man with interest. It wasn't often she had the opportunity to see such a youth at close range. All the boys who grew up in Aunt Jessie's neighborhood were learning to be plumbers or driving laundry wagons or doing something equally exciting. Young Mr. Dunbar seemed a prince from a strange land. Susan liked to listen to the rumble of his deep voice when he read his notes back to the class. Miss Allen, it seemed faintly ridiculous that a young man who had attended "junior proms, who had played football and made the college crew should be translating. Your letter of the ninth instant received and contents noted" to a shorthand teacher.

Susan squeezed the tears back and pretended not to notice Mr. Robert Dunbar was staring at her. Just the same, his interest made the girl's heart unaccountably lighter. She set to work again with the pot-hooks and dots. She would conquer this wretched book!

When she went home that evening she was able for the first time to endure without flinching the packed street car with its awing mass of sticky, tired humanity. The car ploughed west, stopping at almost every corner, swaying, jerking, clanging. But Susan noticed. She was absorbed in a dream of her own—a dream in which a tall, fair, ruddy young man with enormous blue eyes played the hero's part.

Aunt Jessie spoke to her twice at supper before Susan looked up guiltily. "I didn't hear what you said," she stammered.

Aunt Jessie looked annoyed. Prim as was, she was not a very fair-tempered woman in the fashion of her fathered youth.

"Don't see how your mind can ever be on your work, the way you waddle about with that dream in your head. I asked you if you wanted some more potatoes."

Susan shook her head drearily. "No, thank you, Aunt Jessie. That's what you are, a scold! Aunt Jessie. 'You girls nowadays and your dieting!'"

Susan looked down at her slim curves and laughed. No need for her to diet. She weighed 118 pounds. She was tall, too, that helped. It was best to be tall this year of trailing skirts and what the magazines called "the romantic frock." Not that Susan owned any such! Her best frock was the last year's organdie. That Aunt Jessie had let down. It had been Susan's class day dress. It was pink and had a huge bertha collar. Susan adored it. It was the nearest thing to a sure-enough party dress she had ever owned.

After she had helped Aunt Jessie with the dishes the girl flew to her room to see if the pink frock had been ironed. Aunt Jessie had promised to have it ready.

But no, there was no pink dream of a dress hanging in the narrow closet. Susan's heart sank. Mary Ruth O'Hara was to call for her at eight and here it was half-past seven—already.

She called down the narrow passage. "Yoo-hoo, Aunt Jessie! I can't find my organdie any place."

The sharp voice came back, tinged with fresh annoyance. "Expect me to do everything! 'Gif I could get around to that extra job with the spring cleaning an all—"

Susan sank down on the bed, her brows crinkled with despair. She had promised! Aunt Jessie had promised! The ready tears started to her eyes. Then of a sudden she dashed them away after a quick glance at the clock. "Hill do it myself," she said. She rushed into the little bathroom where she washed her hands, vigorously, rinsing them of the scent of yellow soap and dishwater. She dashed cold water on her reddened eyes and flew to the

START MUSEUM AT SAANICHTON

Building Erected By Saanich Pioneer Society Will House Relics of Early Days

Saanichton, Jan. 31.—Building operations long delayed by weather conditions have commenced on the building which the Saanich Pioneer Society is erecting in the Agricultural Society grounds on Highway 101, near the old mill race. This will be a log building, thirty feet by forty feet, to be used as a meeting place and a museum where relics of the early days can be exhibited.

The general committee of the Pioneer Society held a meeting at the home of F. Verdier, Steffy's Crossroad, January 26, when the building committee presented plans prepared by C. E. Watkins, and gave instructions to commence operations. Generous donations have been made towards construction. Arthur Neeves is supplying timber. E. Tomlinson cement, Mr. Burnett an oak door and J. Black roof poles. The committee has appointed a supervisor who will superintend the work. All labor will be supplied by members of the society. To meet the necessary expense the committee decided to circulate the pioneer families, asking for donations and dances will be held at intervals at Keating, Sidney, West Saanich and Royal Oak, the first to be held in the Temperance Hall, Keating.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

likes Attract—and Live to Regret It If They Marry, Says Dorothy Dix—Would Be Suicide Needs to Look Facts in Face; What Girls Think of Married Flirts

EAR MISS DIX—In the world of physical nature, unlike attract and like repel. Does this phenomenon of physical nature occur in human nature? people of like or unlike personality, temperament and character attract to other? Do people of like or unlike character, once they are attracted, together long for best? What do people of different characters have similar tastes or avocations? What are different nationalities?

W.A.W.

Answer: Nature, which is concerned only with the good of the race and not with individual happiness, often ordains that the law of the attraction of opposite shall work in human nature as well as in physical nature. Thus we see big men marrying little half-porcelain women; blondes crazy about brunettes; and vice versa; quiet, staid little maidens falling in love with dashing rascals; college professors choosing dumb bitches for life companions, and close-fisted, penny-pinching men choosing wasters and spenders.

Otherwise we should develop a race of giants or pigmies, of morons or throw-ups, of go-getters or loafers, but—and this is one of Mother Nature's little jokes on humanity—the attractions of opposites that drew a couple together before marriage nearly always rends them asunder after marriage, and the men and women who picked out their mates because they were nothing different find when they get them home and look at them at close range, that they don't like them simply because they ARE different.

This is the basis of the complaint that you hear oftentimes from married people, that their husbands and wives do not understand them, or sympathize with them, and that they have nothing in common. This is true, but it is not the fault of the party of the other part. It is simply the result of having married their opposites.

The tender, loving warm-hearted girl starves for the demonstrations of affection that her cold, reserved husband cannot give her because he is not built that way. He is a refrigerator instead of a furnace. The intellectual man is bored to tears by the stupid little wife who never even reads a best-seller. The gay, pleasure-loving man soon wears out the lectures of the grim, puritanical wife and leaves her at home when he steps out of an evening.

And so it goes all down the line. Happiness in marriage depends more upon congeniality than upon any other one thing, and congeniality is a matter of like to like. Every family quarrel is the expression of conflicting opinions. All domestic harmony is the result of two people thinking alike, looking at things from the same point of view, having the same tastes and habits.

Two people can have a beautiful time together staying at home or even going to night clubs; playing golf or pushing a perambulator; going symphony concerts or to hear a jazz band, if they both enjoy doing the same thing. It is when one wants to be a fire-side fixture and the other wants to dance; when one longs to go places and see things and the other wants no livelier amusement than watching the baby sleep that trouble arises.

So if you want to be happy though married, pick out your double for a mate. It is the one best bet.

And the same thing holds good of friends. We are often attracted to a brilliant and entertaining stranger whose whole range of experience is entirely different from ours and whose beliefs and theories and opinions are diametrically opposed to ours; but such friendships rarely last and have no use in them while they do.

Argumentations is the death of friendship and we soon grow weary of the society of those to whom we cannot even say it is a pleasant day without starting something. Nor do we enjoy the company of those who never see eye to eye with us about politics or religion or books or plays. The friends we grapple to us with hoops of steel are those who laugh at the same jokes and like the same style of cooking and hold to the same theories that we do.

All national loyalties and prejudices are the result of like calling to like. We feel that our own people are always right because their way is our way, and we distrust foreigners because their ways are different.

Few international marriages are happy because after the glamour of strangeness has worn off a man wants a wife who is a replica of himself; a woman of his own people, and the woman wants a husband who treats her according to the code for husbands to which she is accustomed.

DOROTHY DIX.

EAR MISS DIX—Would you consider suicide justifiable under the following circumstances? I am a highly trained man in every specialized demanding college and graduate training, and I am successful in my profession. I am very happily married and have two fine children, both young. But I am utterly miserable because I simply cannot continue in my present vocation. If I try to continue in it, it will mean a terrific nervous strain which will make our home life miserable, react unfavorably on the children and terminate in a complete collapse on my part. There are many factors that make it difficult for me to get in some different line of work, but the real complication is found in the fact that I know that my wife married me because of what I was doing. She loves me, but the big element in that love is her devotion to the thing my work represents. I am sure that if I were to leave my present position, she would ultimately remarry a man in such work as I have undertaken and which is getting me. My children would not have to undergo the nervous tension of emotional maladjustment on the part of their dad. So it seems best for everybody for me to fade out of the picture. What do you think?

Answer: I think that yours is about the craziest letter that has ever come to this department and my earnest advice to you is to consult some good alienist. Possibly there are conditions under which suicide may be justified, but certainly no man in your position has the faintest excuse for taking his own life. And you are a coward and a quitter even to think of such a thing.

As you put the case, you are contemplating killing yourself merely because you don't like the kind of work you are doing, and because you think you will upset the family for you to make a change to something that will be less. That is a fine and dandy alibi, isn't it, for a man to offer for committing self-murder?

Do you think that it will upset the family less to have a suicide in it than it will to have you give up your job? It is rather a shocking thing to have father blow out his brains in the library or turn on the gas in the kitchen. Nor does it add to the prestige of children to have a suicide father in the background. People always suspect insanity.

And as for thinking that your wife can remarry into the profession you seem to think she has set her heart on, that's highly problematical unless you are carrying a good life insurance. Not many men are seeking widows in ready-made families.

I'm betting dollars to doughnuts, Mr. X., that what's the matter with you is that you are afraid of your wife, and that is why you would rather kill yourself than tell her that you are going to leave a distasteful occupation and do the kind of work you like to do. Brace up and be a man. Give up the work that is driving you crazy and try something else, but don't make the change via the suicide route. If you do you may find you have jumped out of the frying pan into the fire.

DOROTHY DIX.

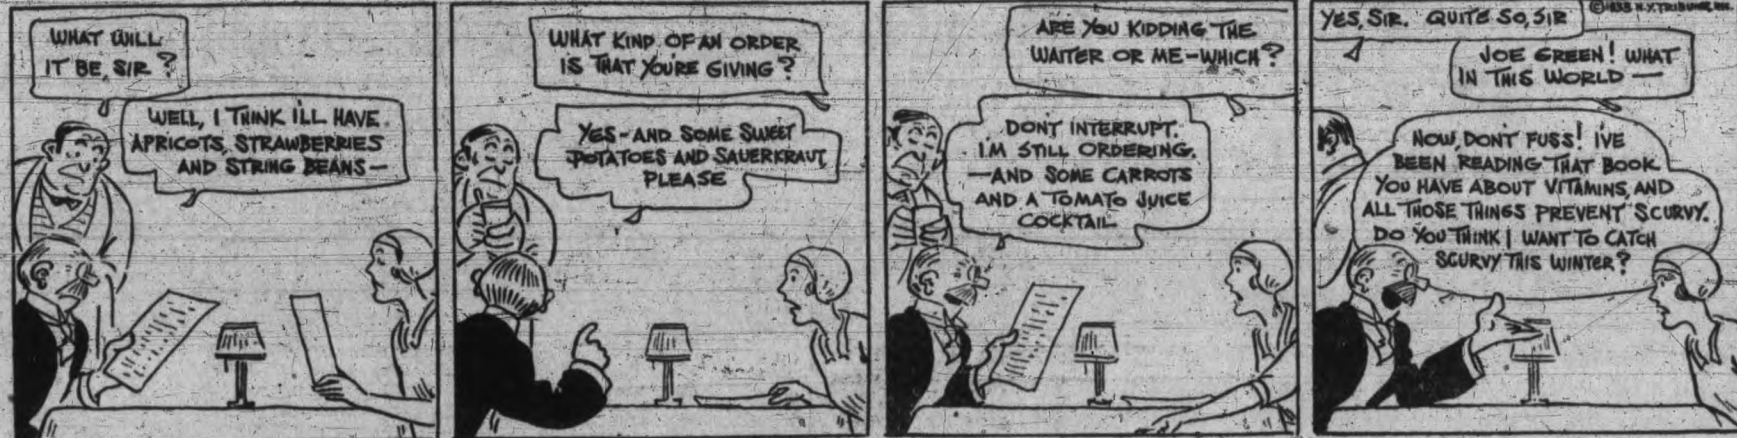

EAR MISS DIX—What do girls think of the married man who flirts with them? Would they marry such a man knowing what he is? Do they think he is a scoundrel?

Answer: Depends on the girl. Sometimes she thinks the married man who flirts with her is easy money and good for good times. Sometimes she thinks he is a contemptible beast who makes her putting up with his love-making the price of holding her job.

Many a girl marries such a man because her vanity makes her believe that she can't find him even if his wife could not. Many other girls have seen too many flirtatious husbands that they have lost all faith in men. The married flirter's wife and thank God that they don't have to live with him.

Alderman James Adam, a member of the committee, spoke in favor of removing the trees. They were too numerous on the street, he said, and placed the sidewalks in absolute dark-

Alderman Andrew McGavin said he understood the parks superintendent favored removal of the trees.

REPORTS CRISIS FOR COMMUNISM

Dr. Will Durant, Coming on Thursday, Pinstaking in Gathering Russian Facts

Dr. Will Durant, famous author, philosopher, world traveler and lecturer, who speaks in Victoria on Thursday evening, goes to infinite pains to lay facts in connection with any subject in which he is interested. This last summer he spent in Soviet Russia and will impartially relate his observations and impressions of that country. The eyes of the world are turned to Russia and no one is better qualified to talk on that subject than Dr. Durant, who has made a study of Russia for many years. He knows the Russia of pre-war days and the Russia of to-day under the Soviet government. Having visited and studied various Asiatic and European countries, as well as having seen every corner of the United States, Dr. Durant's viewpoint is not limited and he recognizes conditions with a proper sense of proportion, whether favorable or unfavorable. This lecture, entitled "What I Saw in Russia," has not been presented prior to his present western tour.

Dr. Durant called from Victoria on July 9 last, for Russia, and on the eve of his departure he stated that he hoped "to find something in the Russian experiment in Communism which would be helpful to other struggling nations, with possibly a suggestion for our own country, in view of the general unrest, unemployment and financial stress of the last three years." He entered Russia by the back door, in Siberia, in the capacity of an observer. His discoveries and observations on general governmental affairs, public utilities, conditions affecting all classes of Russians and the attitude of those people to the Communist venture will be told in his lecture here, the first in Canada since his return, that there has been a general disillusionment regarding the communist experiment is very apparent from

It's a little story of little classified ads but, like their performance, it's possible. Her husband out of work, she bought a stove advertised for sale in the classified ads, started to bake home baked goods and now sells them through the same ads. That's business, big business, at little cost.

MISS PERLEY IS CALLED TO REST

Member of U. E. L. Family Had Lived Here Forty-two Years; Was Eighty-nine

Yesterday afternoon there passed away quietly an old-time Victoria resident in the person of Miss Helen J. Perley, who for many years had lived with her sister, Mrs. Bertha Emery, at 2801 A Street.

Miss Perley was born on March 25, 1844, and at the time of her death was in her eighty-ninth year. With her father and brother she came to Victoria forty-two years ago. Of United Empire Loyalist stock, her family records showed her grandparents to have come from Massachusetts, settling in Nova Scotia. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Emery and Mrs. Ellen Eldridge, New Brunswick. Of quiet and unassuming character, with strong religious convictions, Miss Perley consistently lived a happy Christian life, worshipping with the congregation of St. John's Anglican Church. Her bright personality endeared her to a large circle of friends by whom she will be greatly missed, for although having passed the allotted term of life by nearly two decades she yet retained to the last all her faculties.

The funeral service, under direction of McCall Funeral home, will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. John's Church, Interment being in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

TAYLOR READS HIS AFFIDAVIT

Judge Allows Him to Reply to Hodgson Charges in the Supreme Court

Legal and Personal Battle Over Mallowmot Farm Flares Up Anew

Over the repeated protests of D. A. Tait, about the "best" of the kind of a scandalous document, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the Supreme Court to-day told W. J. Taylor, K.C., to go ahead and read his new notable affidavit on the life and achievements of Edward Hodgson, oil and mining man of London, Berlin, New York and Victoria.

A court gallery of lawyers and spectators who knew the case was coming up again to-day, listened in awe as Mr. Taylor read the seven pages filled with lurid detail, as to the accuracy of which he himself testified on oath.

Mr. Taylor was accompanied to court by his counsel, A. J. Patton. Mr. Tait was there to oppose the reading of the affidavit.

At the end of the reading by Mr. Taylor, Mr. Justice McDonald ordered the court to recess for an hour.

At the end of the hour, the recess was continued until this afternoon when Mr. Tait was engaged on another case in the Court of Appeal.

Another incident in the legal and personal battle that has been going on for years between Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Taylor, and centering lately around the Mallowmot Farm in North Saanich, which Mr. Taylor established with a private horse-racing track for the breeding of many horses which have been winners of the stakes of western horse races, was gone by.

Mr. Hodgson, as judgment creditor against Mr. Taylor for $20,000, in a surprise move before the court here two weeks ago, got read into the records an affidavit charging that, although the judgment he holds, stone pillars, wooden fences, various houses on the estate, stables, and the historic and "very valuable" Mallowmot bath-tub were being sold to satisfy the debt, the judgment was being used to the strength of this affidavit, which Mr. Hodgson swore was based on what he saw with his own eyes during a surprise visit to Mallowmot Farm early in January, and was terminated and denied only when entering the house by the cellar door, he encountered "Mr. Taylor unexpectedly, the court issued an injunction against Mr. Taylor."

In his statement to-day Mr. Taylor denied all the allegations regarding the property sworn to by Mr. Hodgson and went on to make detailed statements on Mr. Hodgson's career. As for the charges of the valuable Mallowmot bath-tub having been removed, Mr. Taylor stated there were four bath-tubs in the Mallowmot house and there were still four bath-tubs in them; and that the Mallowmot bath-tub which Mr. Hodgson swore he saw outside the house was not the bath-tub which he saw, but the bath-tub which he saw in the house, and that the bath-tub which he saw in the house was not the bath-tub which he saw in the house, but the bath-tub which he saw in the house.

The legal battle is being resumed this afternoon with Mr. Taylor moving on the basis of his affidavit to the injunction obtained by Mr. Hodgson, and with Mr. Tait replying to the Taylor statements in the affidavit.

Torchy Peden Leaves Sunday In Quest of Further Laurels

Victoria Soccer Fans and Their All-star Team Selections
Tommy Gorman Gives His Views on Present Professional Hockey
Billy Townsend Will Face the Acid Test in Friday's Bout

VICTORIA football fans apparently agree with officials of the Coast League in their selection of intercity eleven as their first team, picked by ballot at Saturday's match, with the exception of two men, the same eleven fielded for the match against St. Saviours. The fans replaced Joe Crowe at centre half with Ivan Sweeney, and put Noel Morgan at outside left in place of Mike Wagland. The fans picked two well-balanced clubs and on Saturday will have the opportunity of seeing their own selections in action when the teams clash in a charity match to usher in Sports Week sponsored by the Victoria Kiwanis Club.

When Scotty Stewart scored for Victoria against St. Saviours yesterday, it marked his first goal in intercity competition. Although he has been the high-scoring forward for Esquimalt in league matches, Stewart has been unfortunate in his scoring efforts in the feature attractions. Making his debut on an intercity team "Scotty" Robinson, dashing centre forward of the Victoria West, got away to a fine start by registering a goal. Robinson worked hard all afternoon and had hard luck with a couple more shots. The Victoria team had an off day and after showing championship form in the first fifteen minutes never looked dangerous again. Both Harry Youson, outside right, and Mike Wagland, on the other wing were unable to hit their real strides, while the entire team as a whole was a disappointment.

Tommy Gorman, former Ottawa hockey mogul and now manager of the Chicago Black Hawks, has been let loose with a few of his hockey views since taking over the guiding reins of the Windy City club. Gorman is of the opinion that slowly, but surely, the rules are being changed to the benefit of the player. The rough and ready clashes of a few years back, which made hockey history, are few and far between.

"There's more back-checking now, too," he said, "and the forward pass has become the major scoring threat. Back in my days there was more skating. I would like to see more of that. There was more fighting, too. I don't mind to say that every game should wind up in a free-for-all, but certainly the reckless, feverish play that was a part of every game, not so long ago is seen less often these days."

"But, above everything else, I think hockey needs more color. It needs more of the trades which bring top players like old Cyclone Taylor, the greatest drawing card the game ever knew. If we had one like him to-day these arenas wouldn't be big enough to hold the crowd."

"One thing I never believed in was the selling of hockey players," went on the new manager, idly surveying the Hawk dressing-room in all its post-practice glory. "It doesn't get you anything."

"I have always contended that hockey games are not won on the ice but in the trades which bring top players to your club. Deal in successful deals—lay the foundation for championships. The idea is to get somebody you can use for somebody you can't play, regardless of whether or not the other manager can utilize what you have to offer."

"If any of the present Hawk players go elsewhere during my regime it will be because I received other offers which I deem more suited to my needs. But they won't be sold for cash."

"The Canadian prairies from which Gorman recruited many of the stars who made hockey history years ago, are still making it for that matter, and are to be thoroughly combed for any material that may be lying around. I never have found or suspected a hockey player in all the years I've managed teams," he declared, checking out his charges for the day. "I have never had to, I don't expect to have to here."

"I think Chicago has a fine bunch of youngsters wearing its colors and I'm sure we're going to get along. We'll win games, you wait and see. Not the cup, of course, this year, unless we get pretty lucky. But another year? Well, I wouldn't be so sure that we wouldn't. What I want these fellows to do is fight, fight, fight!"

Billy Townsend, Vancouver's hard-punching welterweight, will meet the acid test on Friday night at Madison Square Garden, when he attacks top contender Tony Canzoneri, king pin of the lightweight ranks. In meeting Canzoneri, Townsend is going up against one of the greatest fighters in ring history. Canzoneri is to-day recognized as the greatest fighter, for his weight in the world. However, Tony will have to give away several pounds to the Pacific Coast boy and that may make some difference. Townsend is a terrific puncher and can stand plenty of punishment.

Victoria Bike Star Contracted To Ride In Five "Six-dayers"

Will Make Return to Track After Being Injured at St. Louis February 8

Plans to Retire After Six Years

Torchy's Younger Brother Doug May Make Up Brother-team in Few Years

"I am planning to continue riding in six-day bicycle races for five or six years and then retire and return to Victoria with enough money put away so that I can work just when I want to," declared Torchy Peden, Victoria's famous cyclist during the course of an interview to-day. Peden, who has suffered numerous injuries received in the recent race at Cleveland. The big red-head states he is feeling fine and has suffered no bad effects from the crash that forced him out of the race, which was the first he has ever started in and did not complete.

Peden intends to leave Victoria on Sunday en route to St. Louis to participate in a six-day race, starting there on February 6. He will fly from Seattle to the Missouri city. Following this race he will journey to New York for the annual six-day race, commencing February 26. This will be followed by races at Chicago, March 13; Montreal, April 15, and Toronto, April 30.

Following the last mentioned, Peden intends to return to Victoria to spend the summer and enjoy a good holiday.

However, a number of the promoters are angling to get Peden interested in motor-paced races staged in the eastern United States during the summer months. Peden stated that if the financial returns look promising he may participate in several of these events instead of coming home.

Questioned as to whether or not he will be a starter in the proposed trans-Canada marathon, Peden smilingly remarked: "If they guarantee me enough money I will compete."

WINS GOLD WATCH
Peden returned home this time sporting a handsome gold watch he won in the six-day race at Dortmund, Germany. Two watches were put up for competition to be presented to the team winning the most points in a special series of sprints every night. Peden, and his partner, Bernard Stubeck, decided they would like to have the prize, so they stepped out and won five of the six sprints. The Dortmund race drew between 7,000 and 8,000 people a night.

Torchy was showing his watch to the boys in the newsroom of The Times yesterday and one of his big thumbs broke the crystal.

The Victoria rider was tendered a tremendous reception in Germany, and the Teuton promoters are anxious to have him return again next year. Torchy has also received offers to ride at Paris and Cleveland. He said to-day that it all depended on where he could make the most money where he would ride. "If the European promoters can guarantee me more money than those in the United States, then I will ride over there," Torchy remarked. If he goes to Europe next year, Peden will attempt to have Norman Hill, crack California rider, go with him as his partner. Hill partnered with Reggie McAmara to win the race at Cleveland.

BROTHER IN TRAINING
"Victoria may in a few years read of a combination of Peden and Peden winning a six-day bicycle race," Torchy stated to-day that he figured his young brother Doug would be ready for his debut in the "bike game" in another two or three years. Doug, who is just seventeen years old, stands six feet and half an inch, and weighs 175 pounds. He has already established himself as a first-class swimmer, basketball player and track and field competitor. (Turn to Page 15, Col. 3)

Australians To Bar "Bodyline" Bowling

Board of Cricket Control Take Steps to Have Style Eliminated From All Australian Cricket Matches; Will Not Cancel Two Remaining Test Matches With England

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 31.—Board of Cricket Control of Australia is taking steps to have "bodyline" bowling, which they allege marred the sportsmanship of the first three test matches with England, barred from all Australian cricket in the future.

The board does not consider the "leg theory" tactics of Harold Larwood, English trundler, dire enough to warrant the cancellation of the two remaining test matches with England. This was revealed to-day in the contents of a note sent to the Marylebone Cricket Club in furtherance of the board's objection to the English bowling which they claim is "unsportsmanlike and not cricket."

The resolution sent to England following the M.C.C. officials' contention that the bowling was part and parcel of the game and quite orthodox, is as follows: "The board appreciates the difficulty of dealing with the matter without having actually seen the play. We unanimously regard the bodyline bowling as adopted in some of the games of the present M.C.C. tour as opposed to the spirit of cricket, and unnecessarily dangerous to the players."

"We are deeply concerned with the ideals of the game," continues the report, "and intend they would be protected and have therefore appointed a committee to report what action is necessary to eliminate such bowling from all cricket in Australia, beginning with the 1933-1934 season. We will forward a copy of the committee's recommendation for your consideration and it is hoped you will co-operate as to the application of the policy to all cricket. We do not consider it necessary to cancel the remaining games of the tour."

Race Tightens For Scoring Title In National Hockey

Northcott and Bill Cook Still Deadlocked For Lead; Others Move Closer

THREE RANGERS TOP DIVISION

Haynes Second in Canadian Section and Morenz Third; Complete Records

Montreal, Jan. 31.—Bill Cook, right winger, secured four points during scoring spurges of New York Rangers in the last seven days, while Baldy Northcott, left winger of Montreal Maroons, only scored two. Consequently, the weekly scoring statistics of the National Hockey League yesterday evening showed these two players deadlocked for the leadership, each having twenty-nine points. Northcott's were made up of nineteen goals, highest in the league, and ten assists, while Cook has fifteen goals and fourteen assists.

Paul Haynes, Maroons, still held third place in the league, second in the Canadian division, with twenty-six points—ten goals and sixteen assists. He was closely followed by Bun Cook, Rangers, 17-8-25. Frank Boucher, Rangers, whose twenty assists top the league, is next with twenty-four points.

Howie Morenz and Johnny Gagnon, Canadiens, continue to threaten the leaders. They follow Boucher with twenty-two points each.

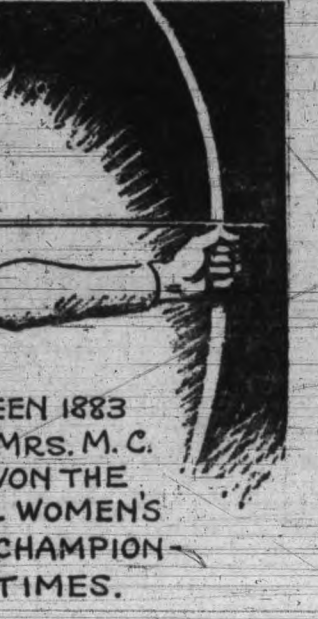

JACKSON MOVES UP
Harvey Jackson, the only member of the Toronto Maple Leafs club to have a prominent mention, drew up to a tie with Cooney Weiland, Ottawa, and Hooley Smith, Maroons. Each has nineteen points, one less than Jimmy Ward, Maroons, who with twenty is in fifth place in the section.

Red Horner, Toronto, continues to lead.

Johnny Layton Defeats Champ

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Johnny Layton, the red-headed billiard star from Sedalia, Mo., yesterday evening remained in the battle for the world three-cushion championship by defeating the defending champion, Auggie Kolchefe, Chicago, 50 to 33, in forty-seven innings. The setback wrecked Kolchefe's chances of retaining the title he won a year ago.

BLUEBIRD II IS ASSEMBLED

Sir Malcolm Campbell's Racing Car All Ready For Speed Tests at Daytona

Daytona Beach, Fla., Jan. 31.—Assembled and ready for Sir Malcolm Campbell's attempt on his own 253-mile-an-hour record on the beach here, his giant racing car Bluebird II arrived yesterday afternoon in a trim blue crate that filled a box car.

It was accompanied by a spare motor, chassis, tires and parts to make a quick change if need be.

Two freight cars were required to bring the twenty-seven-foot four and one-half-ton machine and the extra equipment here.

Eighteen inches longer than last year, carrying 2,500 horsepower in the fastest type of motor ever built, the Bluebird will be all set for test runs as soon as Sir Malcolm is ready to try it out, in preparation for the trials February 10 to 20.

Sir Malcolm will join his mechanics here in a few days. He was due to arrive in New York to-day.

STUDENTS WIN HOOP LAURELS

With Sunday School Title Tucked Away, Chinese to Seek City Honors

Although weakened by the loss of some of their stars, out of the city on naval manoeuvres, the Navy rugger, runners up in the first half of the senior A league, are expected to give the James Bay Athletic Association, undefeated leaders, a good battle when they meet in one of the two feature tussles on Victoria's rugby card this Saturday.

In the other encounter in that division, the Wanderers, fresh from their victory over the Canadian Scottish, will stack up against the Fifth Brigade which held the Bays scoresless for the first half of last week's main event.

Victoria College is expected to play the Fifth Brigade in one of the senior

FLYING Y SQUAD GAINS SWEEPING GALA VICTORIES

Takes First Places in All But Five of Sixteen Events on Trial Meet Programme

Should Dominate Rep Aquatic Team

Lillian Stokes, Bob Mathewson, Bertha Querns and T. Ridout Are Winners

When Victoria's rep swimming team is chosen to meet the stars of the Lower Mainland Swimming League in a gala set for February 18, Archie McKinnon's Flying Y squad will be well represented as a result of their sweeping victories in the elimination meet at the Crystal Garden yesterday evening. The association team won first honors in all but five of the sixteen events and placed second in four of those.

In the fifth, Thora Ridout was credited with a win in the women's 200 yards freestyle when her opponents failed to appear.

The association made it a regular field day, giving their juniors a chance to come home in several of the races. Lillian Stokes took the women's fifty yards freestyle for the Crystal Garden with about a yard to spare from Ruby Davidson of the "Y." Bobby Mathewson, V.A.S.C., gained a clear-out margin over Don Davidson of the association, winning fifty feet in the men's 200 and the Crystal Garden women's medley race squad gained a good decision against the Y.M.C.A. in the other swimming event that escaped the association—Bertha Querns, Kamloops diver, won performing with the V.A.S.C. finished five points ahead of Kemptown's Northcott of the "Y" in the women's diving. The V.A.S.C. girl showed a slight superiority in the execution of her optional dive.

KEEN DUEL

In one of the keenest duels of the evening, Percy Riddle, best Chris Usher by a touch in the men's 100 yards freestyle for the Flying Y's first win. Little Audrey Adam showed excellent style to win the women's 100 yard backstroke from B. Stewart. Rod McMillan swam a strong race to take the men's 100 yards breast stroke from Ernie Peck of the Crystal Garden and Ruby Davidson showed smart form in beating Lillian Stokes of the Garden squad over the 100 yard women's freestyle race.

Denny Walker failed to crack twenty-six in his fifty yards freestyle event, but ploughed along fast enough to beat Percy Riddle, a team mate, by a length for first laurels. Ivor Fuller finished third.

By a margin of five feet George Adam defeated Yvonne Squires of the Crystal Garden in the women's 100 yards breast stroke, and Denny Walker ploughed in ten feet ahead of Don Davidson in the 100 yards backstroke.

The fast Y.M.C.A. squads took three of the four relays in the men's and women's section, dropping the women's 150 team medley after taking first and second honors in the men's class.

Art Stuck, Y.M.C.A., diver exhibition when competitors failed to appear to meet him in the men's fancy diving. RESULTS

Navy Will Play League Leaders

Sailors to Stack Up Against J.B.A.A. Fifteen Here Saturday; Keen Game Expected as Fifth Brigade Takes Field Against Wanderers

B classes, while the J.B.A.A. takes the field against the Scottish. The Garrison is listed to play the United Services in the other tussle in the section.

For the intermediate bill, Scotts are slated to meet Victoria College with University School playing U. S. The latter game should be of more interest as both schools have been showing nice combative play during the season.

The Bays should be able to come through against the Navy, particularly if their backfield gets into its stride. The tussle will probably be a match them in the scrum and will not be out of the picture altogether in the backfield.

EXPECT GOOD GAME
Keen interest will centre around the Wanderers-Garrison clash. The On Bays gained a hard-fought victory over the Scottish last Saturday and will be out to repeat their performance, while the Garrison, after a particularly good stand against the carmen, will go on the field with hopes of victory against the second standing squad in the first division.

J.B.A.A. senior B players staged a return to form on Saturday against the United Services and will probably not have very great difficulty in defeating the Scots.

NORTHWEST PRO GOLFERS LEAVE NATIONAL BODY

Pacific Coast Association Severs Relations After 10 Year's Affiliation

Move Made With Object of Regaining Members From British Columbia

Seattle, Jan. 31.—Sessions from the Professional Golfers' Association of America was approved to-day at meeting of the Pacific Northwest Professional Golfers' Association.

The change would be made April 1. The northwest group has been an active section of the national body for ten years. Dissatisfaction with the rulings of the national association was given as reason for the move, members saying the annual membership fee more than membership is worth.

The fee recently was reduced from $100 to $50.

Oregon members of the northwest group were not present and in the absence of the president Jack Martin, the Northwest group was not a member. Some members said the vote on a secession was close enough to make possible a reconstruction.

The northwest association proposed to operate with a $5 membership fee, hoping to bring many former members back into the ranks, particularly from British Columbia.

GORILLA JONES NEW CHAMPION

Wins N.B.A. Middleweight Recognition By Knocking Out Sammy Slaughter

Cleveland, Jan. 31.—Gorilla Jones, Akron, Ohio, fighter, knocked out Sammy Slaughter, Terre Haute, Ind., in the seventh round of a twelve-round bout yesterday evening, thereby gaining the American middleweight championship, as recognized by the National Boxing Association. Jones weighed 152, and Slaughter 154½.

Jones won the title with a short but dynamic right cross to Slaughter's face.

As the seventh round opened Slaughter crossed his right to Jones' jaw. Jones sent a right to the ear at then missed a right to the head. The track right crossed the abdomen, the fighter fired another right cross, which sent Slaughter down for the count.

Both fighters were wary in the opening rounds, but began to open up in the third. Jones held a slight advantage in the fourth, and began cutting loose with his right cross the fifth.

Slaughter stirred the crowd with a series of sharp rights and lefts Jones' jaw.

Ben Joby, 159½, New York, was awarded a technical knockout over Paul Poirer, 162, Cleveland, after Referee Freddy Block, shortly after the bell rang for the opening of the six round of their twelve-round fight.

Boxing Commission as world middleweight champion, but the title was not at stake.

Cores of spectators milled about the rings, expressing dissatisfaction, following the announcement.

Clear Decks For Start of Allan Cup Hockey Play-downs

Edmonton "Soops" Crossing Atlantic For Title Series

Canada's Famous Touring Team One of Favorites to Lift Canadian Crown

British Columbia Champs to Compete

Inniwegs, Olympic Champs, Leaving Tough Time Winning Manitoba Crown

Toronto, Jan. 31.—After scoring a grand clean-up on Europe's hockey hopefuls, Edmonton Superiors steamed home to-day to land in Canada's Allan Cup mix-up—a scramble from which the defending champions, Toronto Nationals, already have been ousted and from which McGill University's prospective intercollegiate champions may retire voluntarily.

Superiors, due to arrive at Halifax at 10 a.m. to-day, will hurry to Alberta in time to get into the lock of the amateur play-down tussle, while the National Sea Fleas, big pliers of the senior simon-pure, will ponder plans which may send them to Europe for a late-winter tour. Rated one of the strongest teams on the prairies, Superiors will get home time to play in a city play-off series, a winner of which will qualify to meet the Southern Alberta champions in the senior provincial final.

With medical athletic board on hand as favoring withdrawal of the team from Allan Cup competition, the nationals already eliminated from the Senior Ontario Hockey Association cup they won last season, two of the club's outstanding challenges for 1933 remain.

McGill virtually clinched the inter-collegiate championship yesterday evening by defeating University of Toronto 4 to 2. They need only to win from University of Montreal to bag a college crown.

Play-off time is near in each of the regions which will send Allan Cup teams into inter-collegiate combat at month. But only in one case is outcome regarded as certain.

DET WILLIAM STRONG
Port William's thundering herd, Canadian finalists a year ago, have flashed rough form in the Thunder Bay league to convince Lakeside observers they will get the call over Port Arthur and the Woodmen of the West.

Issues in other western divisions are from being as clear-cut. Trail's no-keepers, and Vancouver Maple Leafs are rated British Columbia's most promising contingents and Alberta expects the result in the football championship to rest between Edmonton's purists, Calgary Bronks, 1932 titlists, and Drumheller Miners.

SKATECHOWAN HAS REGINA ACES
In the "B" and "C" divisions, the Prince Albert Mintos in the north, and while Winnipeg—somewhat re-named Olympic champions—are strong favorites to win in Manitoba.

AMITON TIGERS BEAT
Hamilton Tigers, Allan Cup finalists two years ago, increased their lead in the Senior O.H.A. section yesterday evening with an easy 5 to 1 win over nationals, but the Bengals have a play-off grind ahead. Toronto Marlboros, Niagara Falls, and Port Colborne are actually certain to be there for the finishing touches.

The first four finishers in the circuit qualify for the play-off series. Alberta district's champions are undecided and three top-placing teams in the Montreal loop also face a play-off with five entrants still fighting for berth.

McGill and Canadians are on top today with Royals, Victoria, and Columbus fighting for the third berth.

Moncton's Hawks and Halifax Wolverines are popular favorites in the Maritime, but there are other good teams with a chance. St. John's, carrying a goodly quota of imported stars from Winnipeg, are neck-and-neck with Wolverines in the second half of the schedule. Moncton won the first.

League Basketball At Normal School

Featuring keen checking and close cover, two league basketball games were played at the Normal School yesterday. In the women's fixture the White defeated the Blues, 30 to 22, while in the men's games the Blues won from the Greens, 18 to 10.

The teams and individual scores follow:

White—G. Landsdowne 2, E. Spencer 2, Watson, G. Bisette 2, B. MacQuibb 10, B. Quance, S. O'Connell, B. Steward, A. B. Quance, M. Bailey 14, L. Xing, A. White 2, M. Barnett.

Blue—Bisell 3, Denton, Kay, Kirk, Foster 6, MacPle 7, Fairley, Green—Phillips 2, Williston 5, Tatro, Rogers, Pritchard 3, Page, McPherson.

ROSCOE WINNER
Bellingham, Wash., Jan. 31.—Bob Roscoe, Detroit lightweight, defeated Lou Lange, former University of Washington athlete, two out of three falls in the main event of yesterday evening wrestling exhibition. It was a lullaby.

"Dutch" Osborn, local welterweight, drew with Cotton Jackson, Tennessee. Walter Miller of the College of Puget Sound, and Cliff Nedham, Bellingham, drew in another match.

Bobby Jones Reels Off 69

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 31.—Bobby Jones is still master of golf. Here for a second time at motion pictures, the former grand slam champion shot a 69, one under par, on the sudden Lakeside Country Club course yesterday.

Teamed with George Marshall, motion picture director, he lost 2 and 1 to the Dutra brothers, Olin, United States P.G.A. champion, and Ned, now in Detroit.

Olin, who leaves Thursday for the Florida tournaments, matched par for 70 and his brother shot a 71, despite the slow grounds and soggy fairways.

Marshall, a 6 handicap player, had a net score of 72.

BABE RUTH "FIXED" FOR LIFE AND NOT WORRYING ABOUT SALARY REDUCTION

Famous Slugger of New York Yankees Could Quit Baseball To-morrow and Not Be Troubled About Finances; Now Lives Quiet Life in Off Season and "Salts" His Earnings Away.

By ALAN GOULD
New York, Jan. 31.—No one, including Babe Ruth himself, seems to be doing a great deal of worrying about whether the big fellow takes a $25,000 "cut" in salary this year.

The Babe doesn't need to, although he will be astute enough to effect a compromise, if that is necessary, before he signs his 1933 contract. As we sat down to talk things over, past and present, he dismissed the salary business with this side remark:

"It's a good thing I walked that home run in the third game of the world series or they might have asked me to take a $50,000 cut. I sure got that when I needed it."

Baseball's fair-haired "boy," now nearing forty and about to start his twentieth year in the major baseball leagues, has generally gained when he needed or what he desired. He is "fixed" financially for life, no matter whether he quits baseball to-morrow but he has no more idea of quitting baseball, this year or next, than he has of taking a parachute jump off his skyscraper building.

The home-run slugger now lives the life of an urban squire during the off-season. Aside from his family and evenings at home, his main interests are in playing golf, going hunting or fishing, attending the movies once or twice a week. It costs him probably from $15,000 to $20,000 a year for living expenses of the entire Ruth household. The rest goes into the "bank," he says.

Ruth has enough invested now in annuity or income contracts to guarantee him, at any time he retires, upward of $20,000 a year. He has protected his wife and daughters with similar investments.

Between his outdoor hobbies and his gymnasium work, the Babe keeps in good physical condition the year round. He weighs around 228 these days, looks healthier than ever, and says his legs give him no trouble during a day's thirty-six holes of golf.

"BLEW" PLENTY
The Babe has known the year when he squandered close to $100,000. He admits it. Things were so bad that, at one time, on the instance of Miller Huggins, half of Ruth's $52,500 salary with the Yankees was kept by the club until the end of the season. But Ruth "blew it" as soon as he got the cash, anyway.

Between his outdoor hobbies and his gymnasium work, the Babe keeps in good physical condition the year round. He weighs around 228 these days, looks healthier than ever, and says his legs give him no trouble during a day's thirty-six holes of golf.

Veteran Norwegian Ship Here To-day

LOCAL FAMILY EUROPE-BOUND

When the Norwegian motorship George Washington sails from Victoria this evening for Port Alberni, it is the last of a long voyage to England, a family of six will be aboard as passengers. They will proceed to London. Mr. and Mrs. John Frame, with their four daughters, Jean, Janet, Dorothy and Wilma, will be the only passengers aboard the ship.

Ms. George Washington, Sixteen-year-old Vessel, Taking Lumber For Europe

Interesting Skipper, With Colorful Career at Sea, Is in Command

Loading lumber at the Odeon Point pier to-day is an interesting sight, and it is the interesting skipper, a veteran of the sea, although he is still a young man. The ship is the George Washington and the skipper is Capt. W. E. Braund of Oslo. The ship has been here before but this morning marked the first visit of Capt. Braund to this port.

The George Washington arrived off the breakwater from Vancouver at 2:30 o'clock, but did not berth until 7:45 o'clock. She will get away this evening for Port Alberni, where she will finish, before putting to sea on route to the United Kingdom and other ports in Europe.

Capt. Braund has been to sea since he was fourteen years of age. He served on windjammers and old sailing schooners before joining steam vessels. Before joining the George Washington, he was master of the Laurits Swenson, and on the British Columbia-Europe run. Not long before that he was master of a Norwegian lighter plying along the China coast. He served there four years between Shanghai and Shanghai, an ancient port in China, just now before the eyes of the world as the scene of the latest Japanese-Chinese trouble.

His wedding trip. When Capt. Braund was on this ship he had his bride with him aboard his fine ship. They were married a few months ago and the long voyage from Europe out to the Pacific Coast and return was their honeymoon. Mrs. Braund now lives in Oslo and the captain hopes to get home for a visit in a few months.

The George Washington is one of the early motorships. She was built in 1916 at the Copenhagen plant of Burmeister and Wain. She is owned by the Fred Olsen Line, and is under charter to the Ocean Transport Company of Vancouver. King Brothers are the local agents. The ship is registered at 5,000 tons, with a length of 425 feet, a breadth of fifty-five feet and a depth of twenty-seven feet. Her home port is Oslo.

While the ship is loading 500,000 feet of Vancouver Island lumber, when she sails from Port Alberni later this week she will be loaded to capacity with British Columbia products, mostly grain and lumber.

The George Washington has fine passenger accommodation for ten travelers. There are several comfortable staterooms, a cozy lounge and an attractive dining saloon. There is plenty of deck space for walking and sun-bathing. This latter diversion is quite popular among the passengers, and a great deal of the voyage to Europe is through sub-tropical waters.

Other ships of the line include the Laurits Swenson, the Benjamin Franklin, the Abraham Lincoln and the Knuts Nelson.

After a good trip up the Coast, the ship Emma Alexander docked at the Rialto pier at 8:30 o'clock yesterday evening from Los Angeles, and Francisco. She proceeded to Seattle at midnight after leaving passengers at Vancouver.

Travelers aboard the ship were Frank Allen, Miss Elena Blachalana, J. P. Christopher, J. H. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Darling, Mrs. M. R. Francis, S. Gilbert, Mrs. F. E. Glend, Miss Elva Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heathorn, Mr. C. H. Hand, L. T. Johnson, A. J. Lillgren, Mr. and Mrs. George Melrose, Miss Helen MacKinnon, Mrs. A. M. Mitchell, Miss H. McLean, S. T. McMillan, H. R. Matson, Miss C. Pasalacqua, P. M. Schuss, Miss Christina Sheehan, William Schissel, D. W. Sheehan, Mrs. S. Taylor, Miss J. Townsend, A. E. Tures, Mrs. L. Wright, W. T. Brown, William Daly, Miss Maxine Delphig, Mrs. J. Moody, Mr. T. Greenhough, Mrs. J. Hartle, Mrs. E. Hatch, J. W. Hoefler, L. L. Johnson, Mrs. K. McCue, Mrs. B. Quinn, Miss Dorothy Stauffer and Mrs. G. Williams.

SEARCH FOR ARMY DREDGE

Fastguard Vessels Looking for Dredge, Believed Missing With Seventy-five Men

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—A fleet of at least four fastguard vessels was sent to the coast from the Virginia port to Delaware Breakwater and for five miles off shore in search for an army dredge Chinook, last reported having left Philadelphia January 27, Norfolk, with seventy-five men aboard.

The Chinook was not able to arrive until yesterday, but the fact that it had been seen off the coast since Friday caused much uneasiness in army circles here. When the craft did not show up in Hampton Roads, Major O. R. Young, U.S. Army Engineer, requested the coast guard to search for it and report anything learned of her whereabouts.

The Chinook had been engaged in dredging operations in the Delaware river, working out of Philadelphia for the time. The work was completed a week and on Friday she left Philadelphia for Norfolk.

VETERAN B.C. CAPTAIN DIES

New Westminster, Jan. 31.—Capt. J. Boyd, well-known military man, died Sunday night at his home, 825 East Broadway, following six months' illness.

The late Capt. Boyd was born in Great Britain, and had lived in this district twenty-one years. During the war he served with the Canadian Trenching Machine. He was a member of the Canadian Legion.

Besides his wife, he leaves three daughters, Miss Eleanor Boyd, of Little River, Archie Pinnie, of New Westminster, and Miss Florence Boyd, of home. There are two sisters in land.

A SIGHT FAST FADING FROM THE SEAS

Full-rigged ships are few and far between these days on the high seas. There are still a few operating in the South Seas and occasionally one will arrive with a cargo of copra in San Francisco harbor. This interesting picture was taken a few days ago when a former queen of the seas arrived at the Golden Gate port.

SHIP OFFICERS INJURED AT SEA

Astoria, Jan. 31.—The Swedish motorship Hjelmaren, en route from Balboa to Vancouver, B.C., put in here yesterday to send three members of the crew to a hospital.

They were Chief Engineer C. L. Fallstrom, suffering from a dislocated shoulder, Second Engineer Waldemar Larson, who had an infected hand, and Edward L. Jugo, who required treatment for a finger infection.

Fallstrom received a fractured shoulder in a fall on the deck two weeks ago and the shoulder was set in a San Francisco hospital, but was dislocated during the rough passage up the coast. He and Jugo returned to the ship, which sailed several hours later, but Larson remained in the hospital, where his condition was said to be serious but not critical.

WHALERS PLAN BIG SEASON

Canadian Press
Seattle, Jan. 31.—An upturn in whale oil prices is hailed as good news by Hardy Newfoundlanders who, up until a few years ago, made a good living hunting the monsters of the sea.

It is likely that operations will be resumed in Newfoundland waters in April, and many of them expect to find employment. Not so long ago upwards of 25 men were engaged in the annual killing expeditions.

Capt. Anson, managing director of the Newfoundland Whaling Company, has bought out the interests of the company in Newfoundland. He is at present in Norway, where the transfer was made last December.

Operations of the Newfoundland Whaling Company ceased early in 1931.

NEW ROCKNE ON DISPLAY

Popular Car Celebrates First Anniversary; on Display at Jameson Showrooms

Celebrating its first anniversary the new 1933 Rockne six made its appearance at the Jameson motors showrooms, recently.

The new Rockne six is roomier, more powerful and more beautiful than its predecessor, which since its introduction a year ago has climbed from last in the industry to a position among the leaders. The 1933 models indicate that this Studebaker-sponsored car will continue to offer an ensemble of quality features heretofore found in automobiles costing considerably more.

Bodies of the new Rocknes have been made larger, more comfortable and more attractive. The chassis, already tested and proved by three years of engineering experiment and one year of practical driving by owners, has been improved. The motor has been given increased power. The distinctive Rockne aerodynamic lines have been further streamlined. Improvements in equipment and features that make driving simpler and more pleasant are abundant. Interiors have been refined.

In the line of six and standard five-passenger sedans, de luxe and standard coupes with and without rumble seats; de luxe and standard five-passenger convertible sedans, and de luxe and standard convertible roadsters. A one-half ton panel delivery body is also included in the line.

All models have been lowered, adding to safety and streamlined appearance.

All models are equipped with improved Studebaker free-wheeling in all forward speeds, plus synchronized shift and silent second.

Automatic switch-key starting, introduced on the first Rockne, is a year ago, and applauded by the public, is on all models.

Other features include: power windows, safety glass, windshields and numerous other features.

DOMINION BANK ASSETS GROW

Annual Report Shows Substantial Holdings of Gilt Edge Bonds; Position Sound

The sixty-second annual statement of the Dominion Bank was presented at the annual meeting of shareholders last Wednesday and showed the bank to be in a strong and liquid position. The percentage of immediately available assets to public liabilities is much higher than in either 1930 or 1931 and stands at 59.44 per cent. Another outstanding feature in the statement is that with total investments of approximately $30,000,000 held by the bank, over $22,000,000 are in Dominion and provincial government bonds. The increase during the year of $3,600,000 was made up almost entirely of Dominion of Canada bonds.

The cash assets for the year stand at $1,792,931 (16.85 per cent of the paid up capital), as compared with $1,322,287 the previous year. These earnings amply provide for the payment of $770,000 in dividends, $214,000 for taxes, a contribution of $50,000 to the officers' pension fund, and the writing off of $60,000 from the bank's premium account. Including $465,309 brought forward from the previous year, a balance remained in profit and loss account of $560,773. From this total $250,000 has been set aside for securities depreciation reserve and $310,773 carried forward.

Deposits at $95,000,000 show a natural reduction from the figures of 1931. Deposits not bearing interest are $3,400,000 less and deposits bearing interest are $5,929,000 lower.

Cash assets totaling $21,241,332, of which $12,500,000 are in gold and Dominion government bonds, are 20.19 per cent of public liabilities. An increase of nearly 2 per cent over the previous year. Reference has been made to immediately available assets. They are shown in the statement at $60,000,000 and are 57.58 per cent of public liabilities. In 1930 this per cent stood at 53.56 and in 1931 at 54.03.

Current loans and discounts in Canada are $33,645,000. While they are $7,600,000 less than in 1931, this is a logical reduction considering the fall-off in general trade.

The bank's premises account, at $5,980,000, as compared with $6,031,000 in 1931. Although no new buildings were erected in 1932, $50,000 was written off from profit and loss account, a total of $25,000 has been written off bank premises account during the last ten years.

The bank's capital remains at $7,000,000, with the reserve fund and undivided profit at $9,310,773.
